a) Grizzly Bear Tag Support

- 18 July 2002 Regional Renewable Resource Committee letter to Minister of RWED requesting clarification about allocation of grizzly bear tags; to date, no reply received
- Have repeatedly requested clarification from RWED re: allocation of tags to licensed outfitters or to recreational outfitters
- Although some RRCs willing to support regulation change if tags were to be allocated to communities, others felt that grizzly bears are spiritual/cultural animal and should only be shot in defense of human life

ACTION: To write follow-up letter to Minister of RWED re: allocation of tags

- Recent increase in the number of muskox around the Fort Good Hope area and RRC would like to see an increase in tags; as last aerial survey was done in 1997, recommend that another survey be completed to determine whether the number of tags can be increased from 27 (allocation to be determined by the community RRCs)
- Discussions about Mackenzie Mountain outfitters and streamlining the right of first refusal process; to make recommendation to SSI to streamline process – TO BE ADDRESSED LATER ON AGENDA

b) Community Research Concerns

- In an effort to increase RRC input into the planning of future wildlife research projects, the staff has been visiting each community to discuss community research concerns

- Plans to re-advertise position in November 2002

- To use newsletter/website to inform public that SRRB has a policy based on legal opinion and Government of Canada principles
- Paul and Jody to work on wording of policy and possible method of evaluating conflict

c) Fort Good Hope – Colville Lake Group Trapping Area

- Sahtu Land Use Planning Board legal opinion (18 December 2001) tabled
- RGTA set up to protect a trapping area from traders; RGTA does not protect land from development; uncertain whether Registered Group Trapping Areas (RGTA) will be included in the new Wildlife Act

- Fort Good Hope RRC believe that elders put aside the area for future generations to protect from outside trappers and development; community wishes the area to remain as is

ACTION: To write letter to Minister of RWED to clarify the purpose of the RGTA and whether RGTA will be included in the new Wildlife Act

- Endangered Species Act – for the third time, the bill has been killed due to Parliamentary changes; plans for a meeting in early 2003 to clarify wildlife management boards' role in implementing the Act

10. Additional Business

a) Muskox/Big Game

- With increase in muskox around Fort Good Hope, the caribou are not coming around; in Ft. McPherson, the community gets rid of muskox as soon as they are in area; RRC would like to do the same
- People in region do not know a lot about muskox – do not eat meat or know how to skin; Wildlife Health workshops to be held this winter will focus on muskox (carcass to be provided by RRC or RWED); suggestion to develop a tanning center in the Sahtu (muskox hides useful b/c wind & water-proof)
- Big Game Hunting in Deline – done in conjunction with Churnmy Plummer in early September 2002; monitored by RWED; 10 muskox and 20 caribou taken (remaining tags to be used in a spring hunt); future hunts will be done by Grey Goose Lodge only
- In 2001, a Norman Wells resident shot a muskox that has been recorded as the largest in the world (#1 trophy muskox); should result in a great amount of interest in the Sahtu region

b) Tukturnogait National Park – Leonard Kenny

- Fifteen (15) people from the Deline District flew over Tukturnogait to view the caribou around Hornaday River
- Visited community of Paulatuk to talk about overlap issues and extension of Park boundary

c) Right of First Refusal (SDMCLCA Ch. 13, App. 2)

- Land claim process – buyer has 90 days to submit a business plan and the seller can extend time limit, if required; however, still difficult to put together a business plan that is acceptable to buyer, seller and lending agencies
- Suggest SSI design a template that identifies a clear process that potential purchasers could follow to put together a suitable business plan; to develop with the aid of RRCs and land corporations

- Purpose to address community concern about input into wildlife research; work together to keep land and wildlife for future
